Sport is more than a game, it's a feeling you
carry, a moment
like nothing.
Government
has come forward, it's become support.

Game Day Information

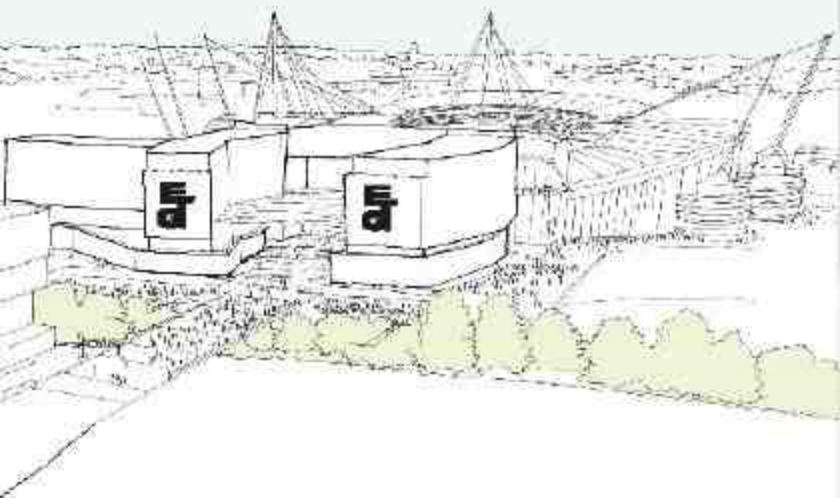

Playmakers: Echo the Game is a brand designed for true sports fans, combining function with passion. Garments are waterproof, warm, and comfortable, perfect for watching any game in any weather. The designs are inspired by movement across all sports, with a special focus on football and golf. Dynamic prints capture the energy of the game whether it's the arc of a perfect swing, the rush of a sprint, or the precision of a pass. Wearing Playmakers isn't just about style, it's a statement that you live and breathe sports.

"Sport has played a huge role in my life, as it does for many.
Celebrating those unforgettable moments matters, and it should be done
with style."

Echoing the Greats

Iconic Moments in Sport Sport is all about movement, precision, and unforgettable moments. Today, we celebrate one of the greatest plays in history.

Sergio Aguero, an Argentine striker and Manchester City legend, is one of the greats of the Premier League with 184 goals in the competition. Remembered for his speed and finishing, he is an all-time great. His most memorable moment came in 2012 when he scored the winning goal against QPR to snatch the trophy from Manchester United's hands.

Our print echo the curves of this legendary goal: the long trough in to the short 1-2s in the box leading the ball in the net are represented in our garments with the prints.

THE NEW GAFFER

Introducing the Mind Behind Playmakers: Echo the Game

Growing up, sport was everything — playing it, watching it, living through the highs and lows like every true fan. I've always believed being a supporter is more than wearing a kit — it's a part of your identity. That passion has followed me off the pitch and into design.

Playmakers: Echo the Game was born from that love — a brand built to celebrate iconic sporting moments and the movement that defines them. Every garment is crafted with fans in mind: waterproof, warm, built for comfort on the sidelines or in the stands, and designed to carry meaning. Whether it's a nod to a last-minute goal, a legendary swing, or a career-defining play — it's all woven in.

I created this brand not just to wear sport, but to feel it. To give fans a new way to show their loyalty, tell their stories, and look good doing it.

— Will Grubb, Founder & Creative Gaffer of Playmakers
